"Peace can only last where human rights are respected, where the people are fed, and where individuals and nations are free."

-- Dalai Lama