"What we need to do is learn to respect and embrace our differences until our differences don’t make a difference in how we are treated."

-- Yolanda King