"These children and their parents know that getting an education is not only their right, but a passport to a better future - for the children and for the country."

-- Harry Belafonte